Update: HPV self-testing in England

On 25 August, the NHS commenced the roll-out of HPV self-testing (HPV self-screening) across England.
This initial offer is limited to an eligible group of women and people with a cervix who have not attended cervical screening following previous invitations. The NHS will invite women and people with a cervix to take part in HPV self-testing through the NHS App, in a text message (SMS), an email or a letter. Once an individual has been invited, they can order a free kit in the NHS App, their NHS online account or via the order telephone line. This national offer is by invitation only and is being phased in across the country.

What does this mean for London?
The national HPV self-testing pathway is being rolled out in phases. Eligible women living in London will not be included in the first phase. They cannot opt in to the national offer and will need to wait to be invited to participate.
In London, HPV self-screening is available and can be requested by eligible women, and people with a cervix, via all GP practices and some sexual health clinics.
Once it is live, in the region, the national offer will align and complement the London opportunistic HPV self-screening pathway. Further guidance on this will be issued shortly.

Join the NHS London HPV Self-Screening NHS Futures Workspace

NHS London have developed an NHS Futures Workspace for the London HPV self-screening pathway.
Becoming a member will ensure that you will receive all future updates and invites directly, access additional training resources such as workshop recordings, and peer to peer support.
We encourage all professionals to join who:
work in primary & community care, and offer HPV self-screening to their patients work for an ICB, Cancer Alliance, or other professional organisation that support the implementation and or promotion of the pathway.

Join today: NHS London HPV Self-Screening for Cervical Screening Pathway - Futures

Learn about the breast cancer screening dashboard

RM Partners, in collaboration with NHS West and North London, has released a new demonstration video for the NWL WSIC Breast Cancer Screening Dashboard.

Presented by Dr Bushra Khawaja, RM Partners Primary Care Lead, the video showcases how primary care networks and the ICS can utilise the dashboard to analyse breast screening data at borough, PCN and practice levels. This tool supports the identification of unscreened populations, enabling targeted interventions and focused outreach.

The demonstration video for the breast screening dashboard is available on the WSIC YouTube Channel. You can access the dashboard directly.

Please note that a WSIC account is not required to access the dashboard. You can access as long as you are connected to an HSCN secured network. For questions about the dashboard please email the team.

Training | Integrated Neighbourhood Care: Managing Winter Pressures: Respiratory, Frailty, CKD – Practical Approaches for Everyday Practice

October 15, 2026 - Face-to-Face Study Day - The Harrow Masonic Centre, Northwick Circle, Kenton, Harrow, Middlesex HA3 0EL

Read more and book here

The "Integrated Neighbourhood Care: Managing Winter Pressures: Respiratory, Frailty, CKD – Practical Approaches for Everyday Practice " Study Day is free to access for all registered healthcare professionals that have a MORPh Account.
Doors will open at 09:00 for welcome and introductions the study day will begin shortly after. Our expert speakers will be discussing the following topics:
Learning Objectives
Identify patients at highest risk of winter admission, including those with respiratory disease, frailty, CKD and multimorbidity, recognising the impact of health inequalities.
Deliver structured respiratory reviews confidently, including effective OPTIMISE consultations, risk assessment and appropriate escalation.
Optimise medicines safely before winter, applying sick day rules and reducing risks linked to ACEi/ARBs, SGLT2 inhibitors, diuretics, opioids and sedatives.
Implement practical admission-prevention strategies, including AKI prevention, falls risk reduction and exacerbation management.
Support personalised self-management plans, ensuring safe rescue pack use and clear winter action planning.
Strengthen collaboration across primary care and community pharmacy to reduce avoidable winter pressures.

OPPORTUNITY | Help us bring cancer care nearer to people's homes - a neighbourhood cancer simulation - Practice Nurse representation is needed!

The Cancer Neighbourhood Simulation will test in practice the opportunity to effect the three shifts for people with cancer, specifically focussing on the treatment and recovery phase of care parts of the Cancer Pathway (so not specifically on Prevention and Screening or Early Diagnosis however the concept around having a neighbourhood approach to delivering care is very much relevant to all)

The Simulation is being funded by us, Macmillan and Beachcroft, and will be delivered by PPL who have national expertise in this area.

During the simulation we will bring together the system partners from health, local authority, VCSE, community services and lived experience groups to test how we implement the new care models. The aim will be to have a model of care, particularly around evidence based community interventions which will be the basis of our planning and delivery approach to supporting more locally/ digitally enhanced care models which provide effective treatment and recovery to people with cancer.

Critical to the simulation, is the recruitment of participants who will bring their real-life experience of service delivery and planning to make real decisions within the simulated neighbourhood environment.

The information attached includes:

- A one page summary about the Neighbourhood Cancer Simulation
- Frequently asked questions, including background to the simulation and practical information about participation

Training | NHS London HPV Self-Screening for Cervical Screening Workshops

Friday 25th September 13:00 – 14:30, or
Thursday 1st October 13:00 – 14:30
Register here

NHSE London will be running interactive online workshops for Healthcare Professionals offering opportunistic HPV self-screening pathway.
We have arranged two dates to enable as many colleagues as possible to be able to attend.
You will only need to attend ONE of the following dates:

These workshops are to give a brief update on progress made with implementing the pathway in London and to give practices opportunity to ask any questions you may have.
We will also explain how the London pathway compliments the national HPV self-testing offer, their differences and how both are improving access to cervical screening, increasing uptake and helping identify people at risk earlier.

These sessions will not provide detailed training on the pathway. The workshops are aimed at practices and HCPs that have completed the training module and assessment and provide opportunistic HPV self-screening. The training module and assessment for HPV self-screening in London can be found here.

Training | Practice Manager and PCN Manager CPD support

◊ For questions please email nwl.traininghub@nhs.net or Download framework and application form

North West London Training Hub have launched a CPD programme for practice and PCN managers to access training and development opportunities otherwise not funded.

Up to £1,500 is available per PCN to support leadership, management, operational and professional development training relevant to the role. As funding is allocated at PCN level we encourage PCNs to agree locally how they wish to prioritise and use their allocation before applications are submitted.

Approval is at the discretion of the PCN's leadership, via the Clinical Director (CD) or PCN Manager. Where the applicant is the PCN Manager, approval should be provided by the CD or another appropriate PCN leader.

Examples of suitable programmes include:

- NHS Leadership Academy programmes
- ILM/CMI leadership qualifications
- HR and workforce development training
- finance and contract management courses
- quality improvement and governance programmes
- project and change management qualifications
- digital transformation or data analytics training

See flyer for a range of training opportunities focussed on developing digital skills provided by the Knowledge Academy

This is not an exhaustive list, and PCNs may support other development opportunities where they meet an identified local need and the funding criteria.

Training | Coaching and Mentoring Skills for Managers

For Practice and PCN Managers only.
Develop coaching and mentoring skills and build confidence in supporting and developing your team.

This training consists of three modules;

1. a 90 minute online welcome session: an introduction to coaching and mentoring
2. a one-day in person workshop: learn the skills of coaching and mentoring and put this into practice in small groups
3. a 90 minute online follow up session : to reflect on learnings, discuss your experience in applying the skills in practice and explore additional tools and techniques

Coaching is considered to be one of the most effective ways to develop leadership and managerial skills.
By the end of the programme, participants will be able to:

- Understand the difference between coaching and mentoring
- Use core coaching and mentoring techniques effectively
- Structure productive development conversations

Clinical Supervision Training for GP Nurses
- 11/09/26– fully booked or TBC– spaces available—Apply & read more here
Do you want to train to be a Clinical Supervisor and be paid to run Clinical Supervision Sessions?
We surveyed several senior nurses in primary care in NWL to ask what was missing / what did we need to do more of, to support you all working in practice. Overwhelmingly, they asked for Clinical Supervision.
For GPNs to have clinical supervision sessions, we need CS facilitators – i.e. people to run the sessions. This training will aim to train anyone interested in doing this. The skills you gain from this training will also help with you being able to support other colleagues / trainees elsewhere.

NEW Understanding her ADHD
In-person and virtual meeting: 06 October 2026 | 10:00–17:0
Register here
Girls and women with ADHD are often overlooked, as many may develop sophisticated masking behaviours and coping strategies that help them navigate daily life – yet conceal significant underlying challenges.
This meeting will explore the distinctive presentation of ADHD in girls and women across key life stages.
Focusing on real-world clinical conundrums, we will explore the influence of hormones, comorbidities, and how presentation and clinical needs may evolve over time. By deepening our understanding of how ADHD presents in girls and women, we aim to support earlier recognition, more informed clinical decision-making, and ultimately better outcomes for girls and women with ADHD.
London Hub (in person): all day live sessions, plus in-person workshops
Haydock satellite (in person): live-streamed morning sessions with locally led workshops in the afternoon
Online: full live-streamed access of the full agenda

CLH Training Hub is pleased to offer new dates for our Transgender Healthcare Awareness sessions for clinical & non-clinical staff working within primary care.
GP surgeries are often the first point of contact for transgender and non-binary patients, making primary care teams an important part of providing inclusive, respectful and compassionate care.
With increasing demand, long waiting times for gender identity services and limited access to specialist support, these sessions aim to build knowledge, confidence and understanding across primary care teams.
What to expect:
Practical primary care focus

A safe space for discussion

Interactive learning

Understanding patient experiences and barriers to care

Topics include:

- Current gender identity services
- Understanding gender dysphoria and transgender healthcare
- Patient lived experiences and barriers to care
- Treatment pathways, screening, monitoring and referrals

Clinical & non-clinical session dates are now available

Help shape future neighbourhood cancer care
-29 – 30 September 2026 in Wembley.
Interested colleagues can register via the expression of interest form.

RM Partners Cancer Alliance is recruiting participants for a neighbourhood cancer simulation taking place on 29 – 30 September 2026 in Wembley. Bringing together system partners from health, local authorities, community services, the voluntary sector and lived experience groups, the simulation will test opportunities to deliver the NHS three shifts for people with cancer, with a particular focus on the treatment and recovery phase of care. Colleagues are invited to take part in one of three simulation layers:

- care and coordination – frontline professionals from health, care, cancer and community services, and the voluntary sector
- operational management – operational leaders, service managers, workforce leads and coordination professionals
- place leadership – senior leaders and decision-makers from across the system.

The simulation aims to test new models of care, including evidence-based community interventions and digitally enabled care models, to support more cancer care closer to home.
